Turning off Google Analytics

To comply with Google's terms and conditions, a user is allowed to disable analytics. We implement the switch as a System Property which is true by default. The user can disable analytics at the command prompt when launching Confluence.

```
--jvmargs "-Dis.analytics.enabled=false"
```